Disclaimer: This is a free resource list. You must use the list at your own risk. The Happy and Handy list DOES NOT and WILL NOT ever do business on behalf of any listed person(s) and we WILL NEVER send you an invoice, ask to meet up with you, or request personal information (other than an email address) from customers. All consultations and project dealings are between you and the listed person(s). It is your responsibility to verify the vendor's credentials and insurance with the vendor. We also highly recommend that you request to see prior work and reviews from the vendor if you want to work with them. We are not a business that offers a service. We are a resource list. Always use your best judgement. Also, please contact us for your own list as we are not responsible for information that has been altered or redistributed by other parties. Receiving the list directly from us can assure you that the information you have is from our site and the most up to date.

Vendors Only: If you are a home services professional or realtor within the LGBTQ+ community that would like to be featured on our list please contact us. In the (send us a message form) below, please provide us with a brief note about the type of work you do. You must include your name, email address, phone number, and link to your professional website or portfolio. A member from our team will contact you prior to posting your info.

We update our list frequently. Always check the site for the most up to date list.
